NU REWRITES HISTORY WITH RECORD-BREAKING 2010

By Mike Babcock & Jeff Griesch

"This team of Huskers likes to practice. And they say practice makes perfect. And now they are. Perfect regular season! Perfect regular season! Nebraska finishes the regular season perfect - 29-0!"

As those words boomed from the voice of Husker play-by-play announcer Matt Coatney, the Huskers completed the first unbeaten regular season by a Big 12 men's or women's basketball team in history in 2009-10.

Nebraska's win came with more than 2,000 Big Red fans on hand at Bramlage Coliseum in Manhattan, Kan., on a day that All-American Kelsey Griffin erupted for a career-high 36 points on 15-of-19 shooting from the field in an 82-72 win over the Wildcats on March 6, 2010.

For Griffin, Coach Connie Yori and the Huskers, it was just another step in a history-making season that left the Nebraska record book in turmoil and the Husker Nation in a fan frenzy.

The win over Kansas State also capped a perfect 16-0 conference campaign that gave the Huskers their first-ever Big 12 crown. Nebraska clinched that title at the Lloyd Noble Center in Norman, Okla., as the No. 3 Huskers ran past No. 11 and defending Big 12 champion Oklahoma, 80-64 on Feb. 24.

Griffin, the 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year, dominated the Sooners as well, pouring in 30 points while pulling down 13 rebounds, as NU improved to 13-0 in league play.

Nebraska returned home to power past Missouri, 67-51, as Griffin led the Huskers with 19 points and career highs of 17 rebounds and five blocked shots.

Following the game, the first-ever sellout crowd of 13,595 fans at the Devaney Center stayed to witness the presentation of the Big 12 regular-season trophy and a net-cutting ceremony on the Huskers' homecourt.

After the ceremony, Griffin and the Huskers signed autographs for nearly 1,000 fans until almost midnight in the hallway near the locker room.

"We were sorry to keep them waiting so long, and we just couldn't stop signing," Griffin said. "Our fans have been awesome and it was such an amazing night. We wanted to celebrate with them and send them home happy."

Griffin and the 2010 Huskers sent the fans home happy one more time on Senior Night with a 77-52 win over Kansas to complete a perfect 16-0 home campaign. Griffin and fellow first-team All-Big 12 selections Cory Montgomery and Yvonne Turner, along with seniors Kala Kuhlmann, Nicole Neals and Nikki Bober were honored as the largest and most successful senior class in school history.

More than 12,000 fans were on hand for their finale, the seventh consecutive crowd exceeding 10,000 to end the season - matching the total number of crowds of greater than 10,000 in the previous 35 seasons of Nebraska women's basketball.

After beating KU, the Huskers completed the perfect regular season with the win at Kansas State before knocking off the Wildcats again in the second round of the 2010 Big 12 Championship in Kansas City on March 12.

With their third victory over KSU, the Huskers improved to 30-0, matching the longest winning streak in Big 12 history. Nebraska's previous longest streak entering the season was just nine games.

Despite suffering their first loss to No. 11 Texas A&M in the Big 12 semifinals, the Huskers continued to make history.

More than 300 family, friends and fans gathered at the Champions Club along with ESPN cameras as Nebraska earned its first No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

As the top seed in the Kansas City Region, the Huskers played their way back to Kansas City by rolling to an 83-44 win over Missouri Valley Conference champion Northern Iowa and Pac-10 runner-up UCLA, 83-70, at Williams Arena in Minneapolis, March 21-23.

With the victories, Nebraska improved to 32-1 and punched its ticket to its first NCAA Sweet 16. The Huskers' dream season came to an end with a 76-67 loss to No. 19 Kentucky at the Sprint Center in Kansas City on March 28.

In the locker room in the moments following the loss, Yori focused on the history and memories her team made.

"This loss will not define our season. In the years to come when we look back on this year, we are going to remember everything that we accomplished," Yori said. "But you all know I've said this all along, when you look back on your time at Nebraska, you won't remember the wins and losses. You are going to remember all the great times you had with your teammates on and off the court."

Yori's focus on team chemistry, love and respect for one another, character, effort and mental toughness, allowed her team to succeed at the highest levels of any Husker team in history.

For her efforts, Yori was named the WBCA, AP, USBWA, Naismith and Kay Yow National Coach of the Year. She also earned Big 12 Coach of the Year honors.

Griffin, who produced one of the best senior seasons in school history by averaging 20.1 points and 10.4 rebounds per game, led an unprecedented hardware haul by Husker players by being named a first-team All-American by the WBCA, AP, USBWA and the Wooden Award.

A Wade and Naismith Trophy and Wooden Award finalist, Griffin also became Nebraska's first Lowe's Senior CLASS Award recipient across all sports.

The three-time first-team All-Big 12 selection was joined by Montgomery and Turner on the first team, while Dominique Kelley earned honorable-mention accolades and Lindsey Moore was named to the Big 12 All-Freshman Team.

Griffin and Turner were both named to the league's five-player All-Defensive Team, while Turner was named the Big 12 Co-Defensive Player of the Year.

The Huskers continued to make history after the season ended, as Griffin was chosen as the No. 3 overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft. Drafted by the Minnesota Lynx and then traded to the Connecticut Sun, Griffin became the highest Husker draft pick in history.

A little more than one hour later, Montgomery joined Griffin as the first pick of the third round with the No. 25 overall pick to the New York Liberty.

"It was truly a special season - a season that we will all remember for the rest of our lives," Yori said. "This was the hardest working team and the best practicing team I have ever coached, and the results were obvious. This team deserved every win and every award it received."

Although Nebraska appeared to be an overnight success after battling through a 15-16 season in 2008-09, the Huskers had been laying the foundation for success in Yori's first seven seasons at the helm.

Yori was named the Huskers' ninth head coach on June 24, 2002. She took over following back-to-back losing seasons under Coach Paul Sanderford, and struggled to an 8-20 mark with only a handful of scholarship players in 2002-03.

In her second season, Nebraska improved to 18-12 overall and made its first of seven consecutive postseason tournament appearances.

The Huskers added a postseason trip in 2004-05, despite featuring four first-time starters. Sophomore Kiera Hardy earned first-team All-Big 12 honors, while Jelena Spiric claimed Big 12 Newcomer-of-the-Year accolades. NU was also back in the top 25 in the national attendance rankings, averaging more than 4,000 fans per game.

The Huskers also produced the biggest win in school history with a 103-99 triple overtime victory over eventual national champion Baylor at Devaney on Jan. 12.

Nebraska made a third straight Postseason WNIT trip in 2005-06, again featuring Hardy as a first-team All-Big 12 guard, while adding Big 12 All-Freshman selection Kelsey Griffin at forward.

Hardy and Griffin helped the Huskers to a 19-13 mark in 2005-06, but still came up a win or two short of their goal of getting Nebraska back to the Big Dance.

That mission was accomplished in 2007, as Hardy earned first-team All-Big 12 honors for the third straight season while shattering Nebraska's career three-point

HUSKERS MAKE HISTORIC MOVE TO BIG TEN IN 2011-12

record. Griffin joined Hardy in capturing first-team All-Big 12 accolades, and the Huskers finished with a 22-10 overall record and a trip to the 2007 NCAA Tournament in Raleigh, N.C.

The Huskers fell in the first round to Temple, but it set up a repeat trip to the Big Dance in 2008. This time around, the 21-12 Huskers, again led by first-team All-Big 12 forward Griffin, knocked off Xavier in the first round.

After picking up just the third NCAA Tournament win in school history, the Huskers battled top-seeded Maryland down to the wire on the Terrapins' homecourt before falling in the second round.

Griffin was the only returning starter on NU's 2008 Tournament team, as she was joined by senior Danielle Page, sophomore Yvonne Turner, junior college transfer Tay Hester and freshman Dominique Kelley in the Husker starting five.

The Huskers entered 2008-09 with high hopes, but those aspirations were soon tempered by a preseason foot injury to Griffin. Her injury required a pair of surgeries and she was forced to redshirt.

Nebraska's inside depth was further challenged by a season-ending knee injury to Nikki Bober near the end of non-conference play. Starting forward Cory Montgomery played the entire season, but battled multiple injuries that limited her practice time early in the year. Turner also played through a shoulder injury, while Kaitlyn Burke, a part-time starter at shooting guard, struggled with a broken finger on her shooting hand.

Despite starting conference play 1-8, the Huskers refused to surrender and closed the Big 12 campaign as one of the league's hottest teams. NU finished the regular season with a 15-14 mark and a 6-10 Big 12 record to secure a seventh straight postseason trip.

Griffin, Turner, Montgomery and Kelley all returned fully healthy to the starting lineup for the Huskers in 2009-10, and added Washington High School Player-of-the-Year Lindsey Moore at the starting point guard spot. The starting five, along with experienced senior reserves Kala Kuhlmann and Nicole Neals, and junior centers Catheryn Redmon and Jessica Periago gave the Huskers the talent and depth to contend on the national level in 2010.

Although Nebraska's run of seven straight postseason appearances, including three NCAA Tournament bids in four years, represented the best stretch in school history, the Huskers have enjoyed success throughout the 37-year history of the program at the varsity level and beyond.

In March of 1898, a university women's team played a game against an outside opponent for the first time. The opposition was provided by a team from Council Bluffs, Iowa. The contest was played at the Nebraska armory, Grant Memorial Hall.

Among the matters to be resolved before the game was whether men's rules or those of Smith College should apply. In 1894, only three years after Dr. James Naismith established the rules for basketball, Senda Berenson, director of physical education at Smith College in Massachusetts, modified Naismith's game for women.

In contrast to the Nebraska team, the captain of which was graduate student Louise Pound, the team from Council Bluffs had been playing by the more physical men's rules. A compromise was reached. The first half would be played by men's rules, the second by Smith College rules. The teams played six on a side: two centers, two guards and two forwards. Pound played center.

Another issue was whether men should be allowed to attend. Administrators decided that any "gentleman" accompanied by a "lady" would be admitted, but single men might be prohibited lest the game attract the wrong kind of audience.

All-American Kelsey Griffin earned Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors while leading the Huskers to a 30-0 start in 2009-10. Griffin averaged 20.1 points and 10.4 rebounds per game as a senior for the Big 12 champion Huskers.

The unflattering bloomers women wore in gym classes were regarded as inappropriate dress for mixed company, regardless of the circumstances. As a result, intramural track and field competition involving women was held indoors until 1904.

Early basketball games involving the university women were well-attended, and there was "always a goodly surplus in the treasury," according to the Nebraska State Journal. The gymnasium was filled well in advance of the game's start.

The Council Bluffs team, made up of girls who were "slighter of build and younger," proved to be no match for Pound and her university teammates. Pound, who also was the first all-university tennis champion, accounted for three field goals and five free throws in a 15-7 win.

The play of Nebraska's Harriet Cooke and Marie Beach drew mention in newspaper accounts. Cooke, like Pound, played center and accounted for Nebraska's other points. Beach was a guard, along with Marie Kennedy. The Council Bluffs forwards were much shorter and had difficulty passing the ball over Beach and Kennedy to their centers, who were responsible for scoring goals. Bertha du Teil and Helen Welch were Nebraska's forwards. Rose Long was a substitute.

Basketball was introduced in the university's physical education classes for sophomore women in 1896. As was the case with male students, class teams competed against each other. The first all-university women's team was organized in 1896, according to the Nebraska State Journal. It included the best players regardless of their class, among them Welch, the only player from that first team who participated in the contest against the Council Bluffs team in March of 1898. Welch and her five teammates were "trained" by Anne Louise Barr and played other inter-class teams.

The first women's game played before an audience was part of NU's sixth annual gymnasium exhibition in the spring of 1897, according to Phyllis Kay Wilke's "Physical Education for Women at Nebraska University, 1879-1923," published in the spring 1975 issue of Nebraska History.

Pound was the driving force in women's basketball at the university, organizing as well as playing on the earliest teams. She was a member of the team in the 1898-99 school year. It didn't play any opponents from outside of the university and very few intramural opponents, for that matter, because a large pipe organ donated by an alumni group was stored in the gym.

In April of 1901, the university sponsored a women's state tournament under Pound's direction at Grant Hall. Nebraska was represented by a first and second team in a field that included teams from the Omaha YWCA, Lincoln High and Wahoo High. The university's first team, led by captain Eleanore Miller, won the two-day competition.

In November of 1901, Nebraska played a team from the University of Missouri at Grant Hall, "the first intercollegiate match for girls ever played in the west," according to the Nebraska State Journal. Missouri was no match for its experienced opponent. Miller, who was still on the varsity team, had been succeeded as captain by Hannah Pillsbury. Nebraska won 31-4. The varsity team had yet to lose in its brief history.

Nebraska's varsity team didn't play against outside competition again until 1903, when it defeated the Omaha YWCA in Omaha 18-9 and a team from the Haskell Indian School in Lawrence, Kan., 42-8. The University second team also played that day, defeating Baker University, 22-1.

Efforts were being made to encourage intercollegiate competition for women, according to the Nebraska student yearbook for 1902, The Sombbrero. The next university yearbook, published two years later, noted that women's basketball was experiencing dramatic growth.

In 1904, Nebraska suffered its first defeat, losing to the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis after opening an abbreviated schedule by shutting out the Lincoln YWCA 16-0. NU avenged the loss two weeks later in Lincoln.

Nebraska was 3-0 in 1905, against the Haskell Indian School, Missouri and the Omaha YWCA, the last two games on the road. The season was short but successful, the student yearbook noted: "Owing to an inability to schedule games with desirable teams, only three games were played." In 1907, no women's varsity team was picked.

In March of 1908, Nebraska played games against Minnesota, home-and-home, two weeks apart. Nebraska lost them both, 9-3 and 28-22, after a five-minute overtime. Earlier, NU had defeated a team from Nebraska Weslyean to finish its final season with a 1-2 record.

Despite their remarkable success, the university women were allowed to play basketball only in physical education classes after April 24, 1908. In response to the concerns of faculty members, who considered such activity inappropriate, the Board of Regents abolished intercollegiate athletics for women. More than 60 years passed before the University sponsored women's teams.

Women's club teams were formed beginning in 1970. In 1974-75, such a team coached by Jan Callahan won nine of 16 games. Only three of the games were against opponents from outside the state. The team played on the small court in Mabel Lee Hall, which was named for the women's physical education director from 1924 to 1952. A typical audience might be 30, mostly friends and relatives of the players.

The modern era of women's basketball at Nebraska more accurately dates from 1975, with the arrival of Aleen Swofford as women's athletic director and the offering of scholarships. The total budget for women's athletics was less than $40,000.

George Nicodemus, an Iowa native who had directed John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo, Neb., to a pair of AAU women's national titles, succeeded Callahan as volunteer coach of NU's fledgling program in 1975. With seven scholarships and Jan Crouch, his tallest starter at 5-foot-11, Nicodemus produced a 22-9 record in his first season. The Huskers finished third in the Big Eight Tournament in Manhattan, Kan., in February of 1976. They won the state collegiate tournament held at Midland College in Fremont, Neb.; lost in the second round of an Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) regional tournament in Fargo, N.D.; and finished by winning two consolation games at the National Women's Invitational Tournament at Amarillo, Texas.

"We are only a couple of tall girls away from winning a national championship," Nicodemus said after his first year. Nicodemus, whose duties also included the softball program, became a paid coach his second season at Nebraska, receiving an annual salary of $12,000. The Huskers finished 20-14 and finished second to Kansas State at the league tournament in Boulder, Colo.

Nebraska's season ended with a 74-54 loss at Nebraska-Omaha in the first round of the state tournament.

The UNO game was Nicodemus' last as NU's coach. Dr. June Davis, who had served for two years as women's sports information director at the university, succeeded Swofford as women's athletic director and set about replacing Nicodemus.

Davis hired Marcia Walker, who had spent two years at Dakota Weslyean. Walker announced she would resign with about a third of a 12-14 season remaining. The team would have four more coaches in the next nine years, including Lorrie Gallagher, Colleen Matsuhara, Kelly Hill and Angela Beck, who finally brought stability to the program in 1986.

Gallagher followed Walker and coached two 20-win seasons, both of which earned the Huskers AIAW regional tournament berths. The first of Matsuhara's three teams advanced to an AIAW regional, making it three in a row. NU would have only one winning season in the next five.

The Huskers lost nearly twice as often as they won during the next two years, which preceded the promotion of Dr. Barbara Hibner to women's athletic director and Beck's arrival from Bradley.

Among the dominant Nebraska players of the late 1970s and early 1980s were 1,000-point career-scorers Jan Crouch, Diane DelVigna, Janet Smith, Kathy Hagerstrom, Cathy Owen, Debra Powell, Stacy Imming and Angie Miller. Powell finished her four-year career in 1984-85 as the Huskers' all-time leader with 1,843 points, a total that has since been exceeded.

Powell was the first Husker to earn first-team All-Big Eight honors, earning the award as a junior. DelVigna was the most prolific of the eight scorers, averaging 19.1 points per game during her two seasons at NU. Smith, who played on the three consecutive AIAW regional qualifiers coached by Gallagher and Matsuhara, pulled down a school-record 1,280 rebounds and scored 1,284 points.

The 29-year-old Beck, a native of Decatur, Ill., had been an All-American at Millikan, an NCAA Division III school in her hometown. Beck inherited two players who helped the Huskers make history by capturing their first Big Eight regular-season title, the best record in school history and the first NCAA Tournament bid in 1988.

The two players, both Nebraskans, were Maurtice Ivy and Amy Stephens. The 5-foot-9 Ivy joined the Huskers in 1984, after a remarkable career at Omaha Central High School. She was a three-time Super-State basketball player and was chosen by the Lincoln Journal Star as the state's outstanding female high school athlete for 1984. Stephens arrived a year later from Alliance, Neb., where she enjoyed a high school career as much publicized as that of Ivy. Both were prolific scorers.

Ivy was the first player to score 2,000 points during her career at Nebraska. She reached that total, appropriately enough, at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on "Maurtice Ivy Night" in February of 1988. Mayor Bernie Simon had declared Feb. 17, "Maurtice Ivy Day" in Omaha. A proclamation to that effect was read before the game against Kansas. Ivy received a plaque from Omaha's Lewis and Clark Junior High, and her high school coach announced that her No. 22 jersey was being retired by Omaha Central. Proving her sense of the dramatic was as keen as her shooting eye, Ivy hit a free throw with 23 seconds remaining in the game for point No. 2,001. That point also secured what would be a 76-72 victory. Ivy hit three more free throws before game's end.

The win was crucial to Nebraska winning the conference crown and earning an at-large bid in the NCAA Tournament. The season and Ivy's Nebraska career ended at 22-7 with a 100-82 loss at USC in the first round of the regional at Los Angeles. Ivy was chosen as the 1988 Big Eight Player of the Year. Beck was the conference coach of Karen Jennings earned the 1993 Wade Trophy and was Nebraska's first first-team All-American. Also a tremendous student, Jennings was the two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year for women's basketball and was inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 2008.

the year, and Kim Harris, a transfer from Bradley, earned Big Eight Newcomer-of-the-Year honors.

Ivy, whose career point total reached 2,131, was named to the Big Eight's all-decade women's basketball team for the 1980s. Stephens, who finished just 24 points shy of 2,000, received honorable mention on the conference all-decade team.

Karen Jennings was recruited from Persia, Iowa, in 1989, after playing six-on-six, half-court basketball at Tri-Center High School in Neola, Iowa, where she averaged an astonishing 59 points per game as a senior. Jennings adapted quickly to five-on-five basketball, leading the Huskers to back-to-back 20-win seasons as a junior and senior. She was voted the Big Eight Player of the Year both seasons, and in 1992-93, after Nebraska earned an NCAA regional bid, was chosen a first-team WBCA All-American.

Nebraska finished second in the Big Eight, then lost to Kansas 64-60 in the conference championship game at Salina, Kan., to enter NCAA play with a 22-7 record. The Huskers defeated San Diego in Lincoln, 81-58, before losing to USC, 78-60, in Los Angeles.

During a ceremony at halftime of a victory against Iowa State at the Bob Devaney Sports Center in January of 1995, Karen Jennings' No. 51 jersey was retired. Jennings was the first woman basketball player in the history of the University of Nebraska to be so honored.

Given Jennings' accomplishments in four seasons as a Husker, the honor was a slam dunk. She was the first woman in school history to be chosen as a first-team basketball All-American. She was awarded the Margaret Wade Trophy after her senior season. Wade was the first women's coach to be inducted into the National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. The trophy named in her honor is presented annually by the WBCA to the women's collegiate player voted to be the nation's best.

Jennings twice was honored as the Big Eight Conference Player of the Year. She finished as Nebraska's career scoring leader and the second-leading scorer in conference history. She was first-team all-conference three times, and she led the Huskers to the NCAA Tournament in 1993.

Jennings distinguished herself in the classroom as well. She was a three-time GTE Academic All-American. She earned Big Eight and NCAA post-graduate scholarships, and her academic success, combined with her athletic accomplishments, earned her recognition as the Big Eight Female Athlete of the Year in 1993.

Jennings continued to thrive following her tremendous athletic and academic accomplishments at Nebraska. After a successful career as a physical therapist in Omaha, she changed gears and thrived in the real estate business in Omaha.

Along the way, she contributed thousands of hours of community service and began to raise a family. For her success as a collegiate student-athlete and her accomplishments after her career, Jennings was honored with induction into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame in the summer of 2008.

Described as "the best of the best of the best" by longtime CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame spokesman and award-winning broadcaster Dick Enberg, just over 100 student-athletes all-time, across all-sports have been honored with Hall of Fame induction.

"When Dick Enberg called me, it blew me away," Jennings said. "I was stunned, amazed and shocked. When I look at the list of the names of the great people who are in the Academic All-America Hall of Fame, and then realize that I am now on that list with them, I can't believe it. This honor is right at the top of the list for me, right there with the Wade Trophy and the two Academic All-America-of-the-Year selections. What makes this one so different from the rest is that I was not expecting it at all. It is an unbelievable honor."

Beck coached Nebraska to the 1996 NCAA Tournament before leaving for the fledgling (and now defunct) American Basketball League after the 1996-97 season. She was replaced by Paul Sanderford, who had taken Western Kentucky to the NCAA Tournament 12 times in 15 years as a coach. His Hilltoppers advanced to the semifinals three times and lost in the 1992 title game.

Led by Anna DeForge, the 1997-98 squad tied school records for wins (23) and conference victories (11) and advanced to an NCAA sub-regional at Norfolk, Va., where it defeated New Mexico before bowing out against perennial power Old Dominion.

Enthusiasm was such that the Huskers drew what were then the two largest crowds for women's basketball games in school history just six days apart to finish the regular season: 12,181 for a 68-60 win over Iowa State and 11,465 for a 78-53 victory against Colorado. Attendance at the Devaney Center averaged a then-school-record 3,452 per game.

The attendance records were short-lived. NU averaged 5,000 fans per game at the Devaney Center in 1998-99, with a high of 13,135 for a 68-67 win over Iowa State. The Nicole Kubik-led Huskers finished 21-12 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, losing to Kentucky 98-92.

In 1999-2000, the Huskers achieved another school first by advancing to their third consecutive NCAA Tournament, while Kubik capped her career by finishing as the school's No. 6 all-time scorer while ranking in the top 10 in NCAA Division I history with 418 career steals. Nebraska's fan base also continued to grow, as the Huskers ranked 14th nationally in home attendance.

In Kubik's final home game on "Senior Night" against Kansas State on Feb. 26, 2000, 13,226 Husker fans gathered to say farewell to her and fellow seniors Brooke Schwartz, Charlie Rogers and Naciska Gilmore. Schwartz, Rogers and Kubik, all Nebraska natives, went on to become the first trio from the same Nebraska recruiting class to each score 1,000 points.

Not only did the 2009-10 Huskers shatter every attendance record by averaging 7,390 fans per game, including a Big 12-best 11,383 fans per conference game, the recent crop of Huskers have picked up where previous native Nebraskans left off.

Yvonne Turner, the 2006 Nebraska High School Player of the Year, finished her NU career with 1,101 points, while becoming just the sixth guard in Husker history with more than 1,000 points, 200 assists and 200 steals.

Dominique Kelley, the 2007 Nebraska High School Player of the Year, joined Turner in the 1,000-point club one year later. However, Kelley's senior year was cut short by injury, which led to a disappointing 13-18 season in Nebraska's final year in the Big 12 Conference.

In the days leading up to the 2010-11 season, Nebraska Chancellor Harvey Perlman and Athletic Director Tom Osborne announced that the Huskers were making an historic move to become the 12th team in the Big Ten Conference beginning in 2011-12.

As the Huskers begin a new chapter in their history with entrance into a new conference, another former Nebraska High School Player of the Year is ready to be NU's first star of the Big Ten.

Jordan Hooper, who won state player-of-the-year honors in both 2008 and 2010, will join 2009 Washington High School Player of the Year Lindsey Moore as cornerstones of the 2011-12 Huskers.

In her first season in Lincoln, Hooper earned a spot on the 2011 Big 12 All-Freshman team. The Alliance, Neb., native led the Huskers in scoring and led all Big 12 rookies in rebounding. Her 14.6 points and 6.6 rebounds per game represented one of the top three seasons by a Nebraska freshman in history. The 6-2 forward also shattered the freshman three-point record by connecting on 67 threes.

Moore, a Big 12 All-Freshman selection in 2010, added honorable-mention All-Big 12 accolades in 2011. The 5-9 point guard blossomed into one of the Big 12's best all-around offensive threats as a sophomore. She ranked among the top 10 scorers during conference play with 17 points per game, while ranking third in the league in assists with nearly six per game on the year.

With budding stars Moore and Hooper leading the way, the Huskers will also begin practicing in the new Hendricks Training Complex at the Devaney Center in 2011-12. While they usher in a new era in a new practice home, the Huskers continue to anticipate the move to a new home court with the building of a new downtown arena. The Huskers expect to move into their new home to continue to rewrite history in 2013-14.

Yvonne Turner (left) and Dominique Kelley (right) teamed in the Huskers' starting lineup for three seasons (2008-10) after earning Nebraska Gatorade State High School Player-of-the-Year honors. Kelley and Turner combined for more than 2,000 points in the NU lineup while adding tenacious defense on the perimeter.

NEBRASKA 2,000-POINT SCORERS

The most decorated women's basketball player in school history, Karen Jennings earned the Margaret Wade Trophy as the nation's outstanding player in 1993 and WBCA/Kodak First-Team All-America honors.

The 6-2 forward from Persia, Iowa, was a four-year starter and led Nebraska to the second round of the 1993 NCAA Tournament. She was the first Husker to have her jersey retired, and it was formally put on display in the Devaney Center arena in 2006.

Along with her honors on the court, Jennings was one of the top student-athletes in school history. She captured CoSIDA Academic All-American-of-the-Year accolades in both 1992 and 1993, along with claiming CoSIDA First-Team Academic All-America honors three times (1991, 1992, 1993). A two-time Big Eight Conference Player of the Year (1992, 1993) and a three-time first-team all-conference selection, Jennings was also the Big Eight Newcomer of the Year in 1990.

The captain of Nebraska's All-Century Team announced in February of 2000, Jennings closed her career as the first player in school history to score more than 2,000 points and record 1,000 rebounds.

Jennings was also chosen as one of 25 Women of Distinction honored during the Nebraska Athletic Department's Silver Anniversary celebration of 25 years of women's athletics at NU in 1999-2000.

Jennings averaged 20.2 points and 8.4 rebounds per game in her career, while ranking first in points (2,405). She also ranks third in career rebounds (1,000), first in field goals made (981), second in field goals attempted (1,726), second in field-goal percentage (.568), fourth in free throws made (426) and tied for fourth in free throws attempted (570).

Jennings' 810 points and 25.3 points per game average in 1991-92 rank as the top single-season totals in school history, while her 10.0 rebounds per game allowed her to average a double-double as a junior. She also owns NU's single-game scoring mark with 48 points in an 87-82 win at Kansas State on Jan. 21, 1992.

In her freshman season, the Huskers struggled to a 10-18 overall record, but with Jennings as a nucleus, NU improved to 17-11 the next season. She set the Husker sophomore record for scoring average at 20.5 points per game (574 points).

NU continued to improve in Jennings' record-setting junior campaign, posting a 21-11 mark and advancing to the National Women's Invitational Tournament.

In her final season, Jennings helped the Huskers to the first NCAA Tournament win in school history with 14 points and eight rebounds in an 81-58 win over San Diego at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on March 17, 1993.

Jennings added 16 points and 13 rebounds in a 78-60 loss at Southern California in the tournament's second round. Nebraska finished with a 23-8 record and a second-place finish with a 10-4 mark in Big Eight Conference play.

Jennings also claimed a spot on the Big Eight All-Tournament team after leading the Huskers to the tournament championship game.

Following a career in physical therapy, Jennings became a highly successful real estate agent in Omaha. Jennings became the first Nebraska female student-athlete to be inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 2008.

NEBRASKA 2,000-POINT SCORERS

One of the most athletic players in Nebraska history, Maurtice Ivy was the first player in Husker history to surpass the 2,000-point barrier.

She joined fellow 2,000-point scorer Karen Jennings as the only Huskers to have their jerseys retired, when Ivy's was honored on-court before NU's win over Kansas on Jan. 16, 2011. Ivy was also one of five players chosen to Nebraska's All-Century Team in February of 2000, and one of the Nebraska Athletic Department's 25 Women of Distinction selected in 1999-2000 as part of the school's silver anniversary of women's athletics at NU.

The swing player from Omaha Central High School was the first Husker to earn Big Eight Player-of-the-Year honors after leading Nebraska to the Big Eight title in 1988. Ivy also earned a spot on the Big Eight All-Tournament team in 1986-87 and 1987-88.

A three-time first-team All-Big Eight pick, Ivy's 19.2 points per game rank second on Nebraska's career charts, while her 778 career rebounds rank sixth on the Huskers' all-time list. She is also tied for fifth in Husker history with 21 career double-doubles, including 10 as a sophomore in 1985-86.

Although Ivy was only 5-9, her outstanding leaping ability and excellent court awareness made her a fierce shot blocker, as she ranks fifth on Nebraska's all-time list with 104 blocked shots. Ivy also ranks third in free throws made (431), first in field goals attempted (1,799), second in career field goals made (847), tied for fourth in free throws attempted (570) and 12th in free throw percentage (.756).

Ivy's 23.6 points per game average in 1986-87 rank as the second-best single-season scoring average in school history, and her 683 points as a junior rank as the fourth-highest total at Nebraska. Her 153 made free throws and 196 free throws attempted in 1986-87 were also single-season Nebraska records, until Kelsey Griffin and Dominique Kelley both eclipsed those marks for the Huskers in 2009-10.

Ivy produced one of the greatest performances in Husker history when she erupted for 46 points in Nebraska's 100-87 loss to Illinois at Maples Pavilion in Stanford, Calif., on Dec. 30, 1986.

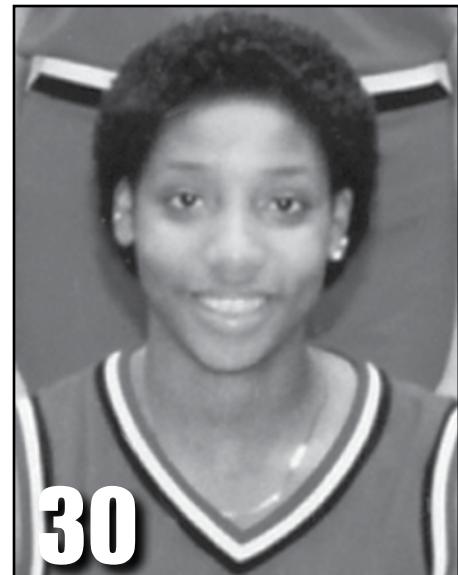

It was one of eight 30-point scoring efforts in Ivy's career, including a pair of 35-point performances against Oklahoma and Kansas in 1987.

She added the eighth-best rebound total in school history with 19 boards to go along with 23 points in a 104-63 win over Brigham Young at the Illinois Invitational in Champaign, Ill., on Dec. 14, 1985. She also had 29 points and 14 rebounds at Iowa State on Feb. 22, 1986 and 29 points and 11 boards against Kansas on March 6, 1988, to list among the top games of her career.

Along with leading the Huskers to their first conference tournament title, Ivy guided Nebraska to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1988.

Ivy led the Huskers in the 100-82 loss at USC with a team-high 22 points to go along with nine rebounds, four assists, one blocked shot and one steal in her final game in a Nebraska uniform. Ivy served as an assistant coach at Nebraska-Omaha from the summer of 2004 through the end of the 2006-07 season, before becoming the head coach at Peru State College in the summer of 2007. She enters her fifth season with the Bobcats in 2011-12.

NEBRASKA 2,000-POINT SCORERS

One of the most decorated players in Nebraska history, Kelsey Griffin produced one of the best senior seasons in school history on her way to first-team All-America honors in 2009-10. The 6-2 forward from Eagle River, Alaska, averaged 20.1 points and 10.4 rebounds per game while leading Nebraska to its best season in school history.

The 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year, Griffin earned first-team All-America honors from the WBCA, Associated Press, U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the Wooden Award while powering Nebraska to its first NCAA Sweet 16 and its first Big 12 regular-season title.

Along the way, Griffin was named a finalist for every major national player-of-the-year award (Wade, Naismith, Wooden, Honda) and became Nebraska's first Lowe's Senior CLASS Award winner in any sport. She was also named a finalist for the V Foundation Comeback Award and the National Consortium on Academics and Sports Giant Steps Courageous Student-Athlete Award.

Griffin, who led Nebraska to its highest national rankings and first NCAA Tournament No. 1 seed, closed her career with a school-record 127 starts, while ranking third in school history with 2,033 points and second with 1,019 rebounds. She joined 1993 Wade Trophy winner Karen Jennings as the only Huskers in history with 2,000 points and 1,000 boards. Griffin also closed her career with a school-record 40 career double-doubles, including 20 as a senior in 2009-10.

A three-time first-team All-Big 12 pick, Griffin also earned a spot on the Big 12 All-Defensive Team as a senior with single-season career bests of 60 steals, 26 blocks and a remarkable 29 charges drawn.

Griffin erupted for a career-high 36 points at Kansas State on March 6 to carry NU to the first perfect season in Big 12 history, helping the Huskers improve to 29-0 overall and 16-0 in the league. She hit 15-of-19 shots from the field against the Wildcats. It was Griffin's fifth 30-point effort of her career, including her fourth as a senior (31 points, 11 rebounds vs. Creighton; 30 points, 14 rebounds vs. No. 5 LSU; 30 points, 13 rebounds at No. 11 Oklahoma).

Griffin earned six Big 12 Player-of-the-Week awards as a senior, including four straight to end the season to become the first player in history to win four straight player-of-the-week accolades.

She finished with 104 double-figure scoring efforts in her career, including each of Nebraska's three games in the 2010 NCAA Tournament, when she averaged 18.3 points and 11.7 rebounds per game.

After a sensational start as a freshman, Griffin battled illness down the stretch, limiting her playing time during the last half of the 2006 Big 12 season.

In 2006-07, she was challenged by a breathing condition with effects similar to asthma. In 2007-08, Griffin played the entire year with a protective vest after cracking a rib in NU's final exhibition game.

Not even the rib injury and breathing condition could stop Griffin from producing a strong Big 12 campaign by averaging 16.8 points and 8.2 rebounds per game. They also couldn't stop her from carrying the Huskers to their first NCAA Tournament victory since 1998.

Griffin erupted for 26 points going head-to-head with Xavier's post duo of 6-6 Ta'Shia Phillips and 6-5 Amber Harris to guide NU to a win over the Musketeers in College Park, Md.

However, in 2008-09 Griffin was forced to miss the entire season with a foot injury that required a pair of surgeries. She returned to full health before the start of the 2009-10 campaign.

Following her collegiate career, Griffin was the No. 3 overall pick in the WNBA Draft by the Minnesota Lynx. She was quickly traded to the Connecticut Sun, where she earned one of five spots on the 2010 WNBA All-Rookie Team.

After her inaugural WNBA season concluded, Griffin played professionally in Hungary in 2010-11, before returning to the Sun for her second season in 2011.

(4) 1,976 Points
5-6, Guard
Alliance, Neb.
(Alliance)

One of the greatest three-point shooters in Nebraska history, Amy Stephens connected on 129 of 323 long-range attempts (.399) in just two seasons with the three-point shot at her disposal.

The 5-6 guard from Alliance, Neb., shares Nebraska's single-season record with 85 made three-pointers in 216 attempts as a senior in 1988-89, when she produced the third-highest single-season scoring average (21.9 ppg) and eighth-highest point total (612) in school history. She claimed a spot on Nebraska's All-Century Team when it was announced in February of 2000.

Along with being a tremendous scorer with 1,976 career points, Stephens was also a gifted passer, ranking fourth all-time with 444 assists. She was also a strong defensive player, ranking third all-time at Nebraska with 280 career steals. The four-year starter ranks seventh in Husker history with 113 career starts to go along with the second-highest free throw percentage (.837) in school history.

Stephens erupted for the fourth-highest single-game point total in school history with a 40-point performance in an 85-76 win over Oklahoma on Feb. 8, 1989. She added a 37-point outburst in an 82-79 loss at Kansas, where she tied her own school record that she had set on Amy Stephens was chosen to Nebraska's All-Century Team, joining Karen Jennings, Mauritice Ivy, Nicole Kubik and Anna DeForge.

Dec. 30, 1988, against Iowa with seven three-pointers. Stephens earned WBCA/Kodak Region 5 All-America honors in 1988-89 to go along with first-team All-Big Eight Conference accolades.

Playing alongside three-time first-team All-Big Eight swing player Mauritice Ivy, Stephens helped the Huskers to the Big Eight title and their first NCAA Tournament in 1988. In a 100-82 loss at USC, Stephens scored 20 points to go along with three assists and two rebounds, while connecting on 4-of-8 three-pointers. After spending the 2002-03 season as an assistant coach at Nebraska, Stephens became the head coach at Drake. She is entering her ninth season with the Bulldogs in 2011-12.

(5) 1,930 Points
5-6, Guard
Kansas City, Mo.
(O'Hara)

Perhaps the most explosive player and creative shot-maker in Nebraska history, Kiera Hardy closed her career as the most prolific three-point shooter in Husker history.

Hardy, who earned WBCA Region 5 All-America honors as a senior, ranks fifth on Nebraska's all-time scoring list with 1,930 points. She also shattered NU's three-point mark with 267 in her career to rank sixth in Big 12 Conference history in that category. Hardy finished with 112 more three-pointers than Anna DeForge's previous NU mark of 155.

Hardy tied the school single-season three-point record with a sophomore single-season record 85 triples in 2004-05. She added the junior single-season record with 81 in 2005-06.

A three-time first-team All-Big 12 selection for the Huskers, Hardy joins Karen Jennings, Mauritice Ivy and Kelsey Griffin as the only three-time first-team all-conference selections in NU history. She also joined Chelsea Aubry as the first two Huskers to earn four straight postseason tournament bids.

Before Hardy's arrival on campus, the Huskers had failed to advance to postseason play for three consecutive seasons.

As a freshman, Hardy came off the bench to average 9.1 points per game in 27 contests. Hardy helped NU to the postseason after the Huskers went 8-20 the year before she arrived in Lincoln. As a sophomore, Hardy made a splash on the Big 12 and national scene by averaging 19 points per game. She grabbed national headlines with her 37-point eruption against eventual national champion Baylor, as the Huskers knocked off the then-No. 2 Lady Bears, 103-99 in triple overtime.

Hardy's effort against Baylor marked a career high and was one of four 30-point performances in her career. She capped her sophomore season by tying the school single-game record with seven threes against Iowa in the Postseason WNIT.

After leading NU to a third straight WNIT trip as a junior, Hardy guided the Huskers to their first NCAA Tournament berth since 2000 as a senior. She produced the third-highest scoring total by a Husker in the NCAA Tournament with 23 points in a loss to Temple. Hardy was a third-round pick of the Connecticut Sun in the 2007 WNBA Draft.

Hardy went on to play professionally in Europe for two seasons. She currently lives in Kansas City.

Nicole Kubik's success on the court was almost criminal. The 5-10 guard from Cambridge, Neb., was a two-time first-team defensive All-American by the Women's Basketball News Service, while finishing ninth all-time in NCAA Division I with 418 career steals. As a junior, she set the school record with a nation-leading 136 steals to earn Women's Basketball News Service National Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors.

Kubik added 108 steals as a senior and 104 steals as a sophomore, giving her the top three single-season totals in school history.

Defense was just a small part of Kubik's game. She led the Huskers in scoring as a junior and a senior and finished her career sixth in NU history with 1,867 points. She ranked third in school history with 563 career assists. A dangerous penetrator, Kubik had a knack for getting to the free throw line. Her 440 made free throws rank No. 2 on the Husker charts, while her 586 free throw attempts rank third. Her 119 career starts are tied for fifth at NU.

As a senior, Kubik was one of 10 finalists for the Nancy Lieberman-Cline Award honoring the nation's top point guard. She earned first-team All-Big 12 and Big 12 All-Tournament honors and was chosen for the WBCA All-Star Challenge. She was also honored as one of five players on Nebraska's All-Century Team announced in February of 2000.

N
Nicole Kubik was a two-time defensive All-American for the Huskers and a first-round WNBA Draft pick.

Kubik became the first Husker player ever chosen in the WNBA Draft in 2000. She was taken with the 15th overall pick in the first round by the Los Angeles Sparks. Kubik did not make the Sparks' opening day roster, but signed a contract with the Phoenix Mercury on July 30, 2000. She played in her first WNBA game later that same day.

As a junior, Kubik earned National Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors from the Women's Basketball News Service to go along with honorable-mention All-American honors from The Associated Press. Her junior season scoring average ranks eighth all-time on the Husker single-season charts, while her 654 points as a junior rank fifth on Nebraska's single-season list.

Kubik produced one of the best single-game efforts in school history with 36 points, eight rebounds, eight steals and six assists, while setting then-NU records with 16 free throws in 18 attempts, to lead the Huskers to an 82-62 win over Kansas Jan. 16, 1999.

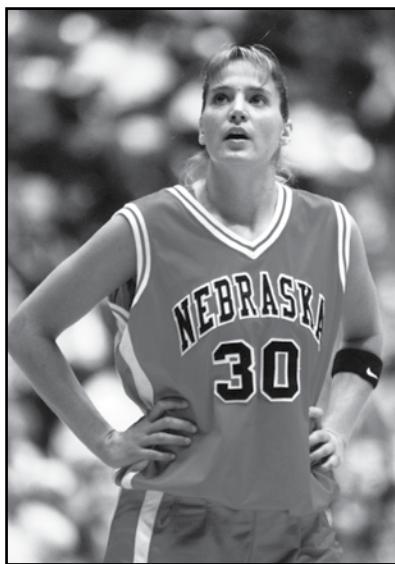

Always at her best in big games, Kubik led Nebraska to three consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and scored 81 points in four tournament games, including an NU NCAA Tournament single-game record 32 points in a 98-92 loss to Kentucky in Los Angeles, on March 13, 1999.

Kubik earned second-team All-Big 12 honors in 1998-99 and third-team accolades in 1997-98. She also claimed first-team academic All-Big 12 honors in 1996-97.

Kubik is an assistant basketball coach on the staff of former Husker Lis Brenden at Lincoln Southwest High School.

She added 17 points and nine rebounds in the final game of her Husker career in a 75-60 loss at No. 2 Old Dominion in the tournament's second round.

DeForge went on to become a second-round draft pick of the San Jose Lasers in the 1999 American Basketball League Draft. She was also the first Nebraska player to earn a spot on a WNBA regular-season roster after starting the 2000 season with the Detroit Shock. In 2004, DeForge earned her first appearance in the WNBA All-Star Game, ranking 10th in the league with 14.4 points per game. In 2003, she led the Mercury with 11.9 points per game. She averaged 13.1 points, 3.5 rebounds, 2.4 assists and 1.2 steals per game in 2005. DeForge earned her second trip to the WNBA All-Star Game in 2007. She averaged 8.7 points per game on the year, but erupted for 16.8 points per game during Indiana's playoff run, including 25 points per game in the first round against Connecticut. She tied a career high with 31 points in the opening game against the Sun. DeForge spent the 2008 WNBA season with the Minnesota Lynx before returning to the Shock in 2009. After a knee injury sidelined her in 2010, she continued her pro career in Spain in 2011, and is a current member of Montenegro's National Team.

A predecessor of Maurice Ivy and Anna DeForge as one of the most talented swing players in Nebraska history, Debra Powell brought tremendous scoring and rebounding ability to the court for the Huskers.

The 5-9 forward/guard from Lincoln High School in East St. Louis, Ill., ranks eighth all time on the Husker scoring charts with 1,843 points, while ranking seventh all time with 750 career rebounds. Powell was also a strong defensive player with 231 career steals to rank fourth all time at Nebraska.

Deb Powell is one of the best all-around athletes in Nebraska history, earning All-Big Eight honors in basketball and All-America honors in track.

Hardwood, Powell also displayed her athleticism as an All-America sprinter for the Nebraska track and field team. At the NCAA Outdoor Championships in 1984, Powell joined Rhonda Blanford, Jennie Gorham Badami and Angela Thacker on the Huskers' 4x100-meter relay team that finished fifth. She was also a three-time Big Eight Conference champion, first as a member of the Huskers' sprint medley squad with Debra James, Blanford and Merlene Ottey, before winning titles in the 4x100 relay in both 1983 and 1984. In 1983, Powell teamed with Blanford, Thacker and Ottey to win the 4x100 crown. Powell lettered in outdoor track in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

Powell became the first female mayor of East St. Louis, Ill., in 1999 and served as the city's mayor until 2003.

(9) 1,778 Points
6-0, Forward
DePere, Wis.
(Neenah)
1980-83

A formidable presence inside for the Huskers, Kathy Hagerstrom may be the best player from the first decade of Husker basketball.

Kathy Hagerstrom ranks in the top 10 in Husker history in points, rebounds and blocked shots.

The 6-0 forward from DePere, Wis., ranks fourth on Nebraska's all-time charts with 874 career rebounds, sixth with 102 career blocked shots and ninth with 1,778 career points, while ranking in a tie for second with 130 games played. She shot 51.7 percent (742-1,434) from the field during her career, while ranking ninth in free throws made (294) and seventh in free throws attempted (444).

She enjoyed her best season as a sophomore, averaging 17.6 points and 8.7 rebounds, while shooting 58.3 percent (221-379) from the field, which ranks as the sixth-best single-season shooting average in school history. She led the Huskers to the 1981 AIAW Regional Tournament. She helped Nebraska to a 23-17 record as a freshman in 1979-80 and a trip to AIAW Regionals.

Hagerstrom scored a career-high 29 points in a 93-48 win over Creighton at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on Jan. 21, 1981, after erupting for a 27-point, 21-rebound effort in an 82-81 loss to Iowa State in the Big Eight Tournament at Lawrence, Kan., on Jan. 16, 1981. Hagerstrom's 21 boards rank in a tie for the fourth-highest single-game total in school history.

Hagerstrom came to Nebraska after earning state player-of-the-year honors and Parade All-America accolades during her Wisconsin prep career. She earned her bachelor's degree in advertising and broadcasting from Nebraska in 1983, before serving as an assistant coach at Central Missouri State. She helped lead Central Missouri State to an NCAA Division II title in 1985, before being named the head coach at NCAA Division III Wellesley College in Massachusetts. Hagerstrom retired from coaching following the 2008-09 season as the winningest head coach in Wellesley College history.

One of the most explosive players in Nebraska basketball history, Diane DelVigna may have owned every scoring and rebounding record at Nebraska if she had played more than two seasons. A transfer from Feather River College in California, DelVigna set the NU single-season record with 646 points in 1978-79, before shattering that mark with 787 points as a senior. That total ranks second on NU's all-time list, while her 646 points as a junior ranks seventh.

DelVigna earned spots on the Big Eight All-Tournament team in both 1978-79 and 1979-80. She ranks 11th on Nebraska's career charts with 1,433 points and third in scoring average with 19.1 points per game. Her 7.2 rebounds per game also rank eighth on the Huskers' all-time list.

DelVigna ranks ninth on NU's career charts with 191 steals. She was the first player in Husker history to record 100 steals in a season, reaching the century mark in 1978-79.

She added 91 steals as a senior for the fifth-best single-season total in school history.

Those two single-season marks stood as the best in school history until Nicole Kubik produced three consecutive 100-plus steal seasons in 1998, 1999 and 2000. DelVigna set a career high with 32 points in Nebraska's 71-69 win over Arizona State on Nov. 29, 1979.

DelVigna now makes her home in Dublin, Calif.

Cannon Falls, Minn.
[Cannon Falls]

A first-team All-Big 12 selection on and off the court as a senior in 2009-10, Cory Montgomery closed her career as one of only eight Huskers in history to post 1,300 points and 600 career rebounds.

The 6-2 forward from Cannon Falls, Minn., finished her career at No. 12 on NU's career scoring list with 1,378 points, while ranking 13th with 627 rebounds. She also finished 10th in career three-pointers made with 80, while ranking second all-time at Nebraska with 130 games played.

An outstanding shooter, Montgomery also finished sixth in school history with a career free throw percentage of .789.

Montgomery helped lead the Huskers to the best season in school history as a senior by averaging 12.7 points and 5.0 rebounds per game. Montgomery's averages were down 2.5 points and 2.8 rebounds per contest from her junior season when she earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors in 2008-09.

However, with the return of All-American forward Kelsey Griffin from a redshirt season in 2008-09, Nebraska raced to a 32-2 record and the school's first Big 12 title with a dominant 1-2 punch inside.

Cory Montgomery earned first-team All-Big 12 honors before being chosen with the No. 25 overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft by the New York Liberty.

Montgomery's ability to stretch the defense inside-out with her strong post moves and three-point shooting, helped Griffin capture Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors by averaging 20.1 points and 10.4 rebounds per game.

Together, along with fellow first-team All-Big 12 senior Yvonne Turner, junior Dominique Kelley and freshman point guard Lindsey Moore, the Huskers tied the Big 12 record with a 30-game winning streak while cruising to a 29-0 regular-season mark. Montgomery and the Huskers advanced to the program's first NCAA Sweet 16 and claimed the school's first NCAA Tournament No. 1 seed. NU also claimed the highest national rankings in school history (No. 3), while finishing No. 4 in the final official NCAA RPI.

An outstanding student, Montgomery was a two-time first-team academic All-Big 12 pick and was a second-team academic All-Big 12 selection in 2009. She also earned her bachelor's degree in business administration from NU in just 3 1/2 years.

Following her Nebraska career, Montgomery was selected by the New York Liberty with the first pick of the third round (No. 25 overall) in the 2010 WNBA Draft. She became just the fourth Husker in history to be chosen in the WNBA Draft, following Griffin (No. 3, 2010), Nicole Kubik (No. 15, 2000) and Kiera Hardy (No. 36, 2007). Montgomery continued her professional career in Spain in 2010-11 and Australia in 2011-12.

JANET SMITH #42

[13] 1,284 Points
6-2, Center
Omaha, Neb.
[Burke]
1979-82

The greatest shot blocker in the history of Nebraska women's basketball, Janet Smith owns four of the top 10 single-season block totals in school history to rank first on the Husker career chart with 238 blocks.

The 6-2 center from Omaha Burke High School provided a truly dominant presence inside during the early years of Husker basketball. Along with ranking first all time in blocks, Smith holds a commanding lead on Nebraska's all-time charts with 1,280 boards and a 9.4 rebound per game average during her career.

Smith's 136 games played also rank first at Nebraska, while her 122 career starts trail only Kelsey Griffin on NU's all-time list.

Smith earned a spot on the Big Eight Conference All-Tournament team in 1979-80, along with Husker teammate Diane DelVigna.

Smith produced one of the best seasons in Nebraska history by averaging 14.4 points, 13.5 rebounds and 1.9 blocked shots per game in 1980-81. She scored a career high with 22 points, while pulling down 14 rebounds in an 82-81 loss to Iowa State at the Big Eight Tournament in Lawrence, Kan., on Jan. 16, 1981. She added a 22-point performance in an 83-65 win over Central Missouri at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on Jan. 23, 1981.

Smith set the Nebraska and Devaney Center single-game record with 25 rebounds in a 74-64 win over Nebraska-Omaha on Dec. 19, 1980. She grabbed 20 or more rebounds in a single-game on two other occasions, including 21 boards in a 72-60 win over South Dakota on Jan. 30, 1981, and 20 rebounds in a 65-64 win over Northwestern on Nov. 29, 1980.

Nebraska's all-time leader in rebounding and blocked shots, Janet Smith also ranks 13th at Nebraska with 1,284 points.

Brooke Schwartz capped a solid all-around career for the Huskers by finishing 14th on Nebraska's all-time scoring list with 1,243 points. Along with her scoring ability, the Gering, Neb., native finished sixth in the Husker record book with 223 steals, while just missing the top 10 in career assists with 295 to finish 13th.

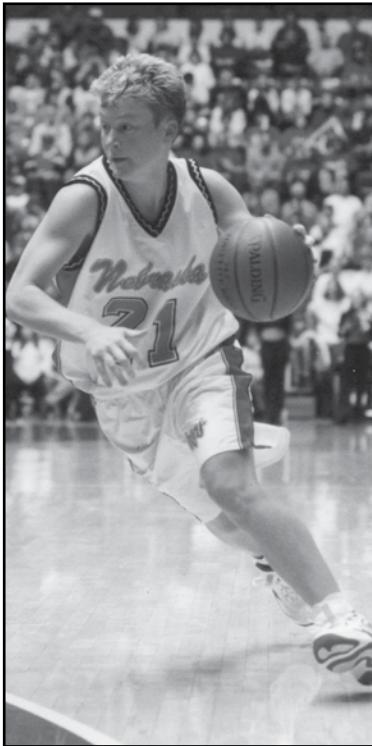

Schwartz was also a talented rebounder, leading the team as a junior with 5.9 boards per game. She finished her career with 513 rebounds and is one of only 13 players in Husker history to score more than 1,000 points and pull down more than 500 rebounds.

Schwartz was a third-team All-Big 12 Conference pick as a junior in 1998-99 after averaging 13.2 points and 5.9 rebounds and added honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors as a senior. She also ranks ninth in three-point field goals made (81) and 11th in three-pointers attempted (270). Her career free throw accuracy of 74.5 percent also ranks among the top 20 all time at Nebraska.

Schwartz also helped Nebraska to three consecutive NCAA Tournaments in 1998, 1999 and 2000.

Schwartz erupted for a career-high 31 points against Drake in the Bob Devaney Sports Center on Dec. 12, 1999. She pulled down a career-best 15 rebounds at Texas on Jan. 9, 1999.

Schwartz was named the head coach at Pratt (Kan.) Community College in April of 2006, after serving as an assistant coach at Garden City

(15) 1,183 Points
5-11, Forward
Lincoln, Neb.
(East)
1976-79

One of only two Lincoln natives (joining Dominique Kelley) among the Huskers' 1,000-point scorers, Jan Crouch was a leader in the earliest days of the Nebraska women's basketball program. A graduate of Lincoln East High School, the 5-11 forward was the second player in Husker history to earn a spot on the Big Eight All-Tournament team during the 1976-77 season, when she helped the Huskers to a second-place finish.

Jan Crouch was the first player in Nebraska history to score 1,000 points in her career. She added 681 rebounds, while starting 103 games.

A talented rebounder, Crouch still ranks 10th on the Huskers' all-time list with 681 boards, while ranking 15th on NU's career chart with 1,183 points. She also ranks in the top 15 with 368 free throw attempts in her career. Crouch was a solid defensive player who recorded eight steals in a 64-61 win over Northwest Missouri State on Dec. 14, 1976, to tie for seventh on Nebraska's single-game steals list.

Crouch was a pioneering girls basketball player growing up in Lincoln, as she asked the Lincoln Public Schools Board to add school-sponsored girls basketball teams as a junior in 1973-74. She played as a senior on Lincoln East High School's first school-sponsored team in 1974-75.

Crouch, who is an accountant in Lincoln, is still an active member of the Fastbreakers Women's Basketball Booster Club.

The most prolific passer in Nebraska history, Meggan Yedsena dished out 696 assists during her career for a record 5.8 assists per game. Yedsena owns four of the top six single-season assist totals in the Nebraska record books, including 195 assists during the 1991-92 season. Nebraska's all-time leading scorer Karen Jennings and 1,000-point club member Nafeesah Brown were the two major beneficiaries of Yedsena's passing proficiency.

Yedsena's skill helped her earn Big Eight Newcomer-of-the-Year honors in 1990-91. She was a three-time second-team All-Big Eight pick, after earning honorable-mention all-league accolades as a freshman. An outstanding student, Yedsena also captured first-team academic All-Big Eight awards in 1991-92 and 1992-93.

Yedsena was a solid shooter and one of the top defensive players in NU history. The 5-8 point guard from Mahoney, Pa., started 120 straight games during her career, averaging 9.3 points per game to finish with 1,116 points to rank 16th on Nebraska's all-time list. Her 297 steals established a Husker career mark until Nicole Kubik surpassed it in 1998-99.

Yedsena set a career best with 12 assists in a 95-67 win over Oklahoma at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on Jan. 26, 1991, and tied that mark in an 87-60 win at Arizona State on Jan. 4, 1994. Both totals are tied for fifth all time on the Nebraska single-game charts. Amazingly, Yedsena never scored 20 points in a single game, recording a career-high with 19 points in Nebraska's 76-67 win over Kansas State on Feb. 11, 1994. Yedsena helped the Huskers to the first NCAA Tournament victory in school history with six points, seven assists and four rebounds in an 81-58 win over San Diego in Lincoln on March 17, 1993.

Yedsena spent the 2003 season with the Colorado Chill of the NWBL, before signing with the Birmingham Power for 2004. She spent 2001 and 2002 playing for the Schuylkill (Pa.) Syrens in the Women's American Basketball Association, leading them to the championship game in the league's inaugural season.

5-7, Guard
Lincoln, Neb.
(Northeast)

A four-year starter, Dominique Kelley was an outstanding all-around player who had her senior season cut short by knee injuries. The 2007 Nebraska High School Player of the Year at Lincoln Northeast, Kelley finished with 1,107 points despite missing nearly all of NU's final 20 games of the 2010-11 season.

As a starter in Nebraska's first 11 games as a senior, Kelley averaged 15.0 points, 5.0 rebounds and 3.5 assists. She was on pace to finish among the top 12 players in school history in scoring, while also smashing the school record for career starts. However, a knee injury kept her off the floor for all but eight minutes in the Big 12 opener against Oklahoma on Jan. 8. She also earned a start on Senior Night against Colorado, when she played eight seconds.

Kelley became just the fifth freshman in NU history to start every game. As a rookie in 2007-08, she made 33 starts and averaged 6.4 points and 2.9 rebounds while helping the Huskers to the second round of the 2008 NCAA Tournament. Kelley showed improvement as a sophomore, increasing her averages to 9.7 points and 3.3 rebounds per game, while helping an injury-ravaged NU team to the second round of the 2009 Postseason WNIT.

She earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 accolades as a junior, when she started every game and helped the Huskers to the best year in school history. Kelley increased her averages to 12.6 points and 3.9 rebounds per game, while continuing her lock-down defensive abilities. In the 2010 NCAA Tournament, Kelley helped the Huskers to their first-ever Sweet 16 by scoring 22 points against No. 22 UCLA. In the round of 16, Kelley added 22 points against No. 19 Kentucky. In three NCAA Tournament games in 2010, Kelley set an NU record by averaging 18.3 points per game, while adding 3.3 rebounds, 2.7 assists and 1.0 steal per contest. She hit 18-of-30 shots from the field, including 3-of-4 three-pointers. She also went 16-of-22 at the free throw line.

One of the top free throw shooters in NU history, Kelley's 90.7 percent (68-75) shooting as a senior ranked as the second-best season by a Husker at the line. She ranked sixth in career free throws made (383) and attempted (490), while ranking seventh in career percentage (.782). Her 110 career starts also ranked eighth in school history.

Kelley expects to earn her bachelor's degree in broadcasting from Nebraska in 2011-12, and pursue a career in coaching or a media-related field.

Big 12 mark and the school's first Big 12 Conference regular-season title.

Turner, who earned Big 12 Player-of-the-Week honors on Jan. 18, 2010, helped shoot the Huskers to a Big 12 record-tying 30-game winning streak to open the season while becoming the first Big 12 men's or women's basketball team to complete an unbeaten regular season (29-0).

During her award-winning week, Turner hit five three-pointers to finish with 21 points in a win over No. 19 Texas on Jan. 12. She followed that effort with 22 points and a career-high six three-pointers in a win at No. 9 Baylor on Jan. 17. Baylor went on to advance to the NCAA Final Four. Turner closed her career as one of only six players in NU history to produce 1,000 points, 200 assists and 200 steals in her career. Her 126 games played at Nebraska ranked sixth in school history, while she made 95 career starts.

A first-team WBCA High School All-American out of Bellevue East, Turner was the 2006 Gatorade Nebraska High School Player of the Year. She continued her basketball career by playing professionally in Australia and Germany in 2010-11.

One of the most explosive players to ever wear the scarlet and cream, Nafeesah Brown produced one of the best seasons in school history as a senior in 1993-94. She ranks 20th all time at Nebraska with 1,089 points. The 6-1 forward from Chicago, Ill., shredded opponents by averaging 20.2 points and 10.1 rebounds per game as a senior. Her 1993-94 scoring average ranks as the sixth-best single-season mark in school history, while her rebounding average ranks as the third-best mark in the NU record books. Brown's career rebounding average of 8.6 boards per game is also tied for the second-best mark at Nebraska, while her 16.3 points per game career average is the sixth-best figure in school history.

Brown earned first-team All-Big Eight honors as a senior in 1993-94, after claiming honorable-mention all-conference accolades in 1992-93.

One of the best pure shooters in Nebraska history, Kate Galligan ranks third on the Husker all-time list with 145 made three-pointers in her four-year career, trailing only Kiera Hardy, Yvonne Turner and Amy Stephens. She also ranks 22nd all time at Nebraska with 1,069 points. Galligan's 377 career three-point attempts rank fifth on the NU charts, while her .385 career three-point percentage is tied for third. Her six made three-pointers in a 94-85 loss at Kansas on Feb. 11, 1996, is tied as the sixth-highest single-game total in school history.

Not surprisingly, the 5-8 guard from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is also one of the best free throw shooters in school history, connecting on 77.6 percent (242-312) of her attempts to rank eighth in Husker history. Her 12-for-12 shooting performance from the free throw line against Missouri on Feb. 18, 1996, and her 10-for-10 effort at the line against Iowa State on Feb. 27, 1994, rank as two of only 10 perfect free throw performances in NU history. She also ranks 12th at Nebraska with 299 career assists. She earned honorable-mention All-Big Eight honors as a senior in 1995-96. Along with being a standout shooter, Galligan was an outstanding student, becoming a four-time first-team academic all-conference selection.

Galligan helped the Huskers to the third NCAA Tournament bid in school history during her senior season, where she scored a team-high 12 points, while adding four assists and three rebounds in a 66-62 loss to Colorado State at Stanford, Calif., on March 17, 1996. Galligan scored a career-high 26 points in an 84-71 win at Iowa State on Feb. 27, 1994.

After graduating from Nebraska, Galligan served as a graduate assistant with the Huskers before taking assistant coaching positions at Pittsburgh, Texas-Pan American and the University of Nebraska-Kearney. She served as an assistant coach at Kansas in 2003-04.

against Oklahoma also ranks as one of only 10 perfect single-game free throw shooting performances in school history.

Owen was one of the top field goal shooters in history, connecting on 52.3 percent (422-807) of her attempts in her career to rank sixth all time at NU.

A model of consistency during her career, Owen never scored 300 points in a single season, but still managed to claim a spot in Nebraska's 1,000-Point Club by ranking 23rd with 1,048 points in her career.

The 5-6 guard from Ventura, Calif., enjoyed her best season as a junior in 1983-84, averaging 10.1 points and 4.6 rebounds per game. She scored a career-high 23 points in a 90-86 win at Kentucky on Jan. 4, 1984. Owen was also a strong performer in the classroom, earning third-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in 1983-84. She owns one of eight academic All-America awards that have been won by Husker women's basketball players. She was also a first-team academic All-Big Eight selection in 1983-84.

One of only five players in Nebraska history to post 400 or more career assists, Stacy Imming ranks fifth on NU's all-time charts with 402 assists. Her 159 assists in 1986-87 also tied for ninth on the NU single-season list, while her 13 assists against Oklahoma on Feb. 21, 1987, rank as the fourth-best single-game mark.

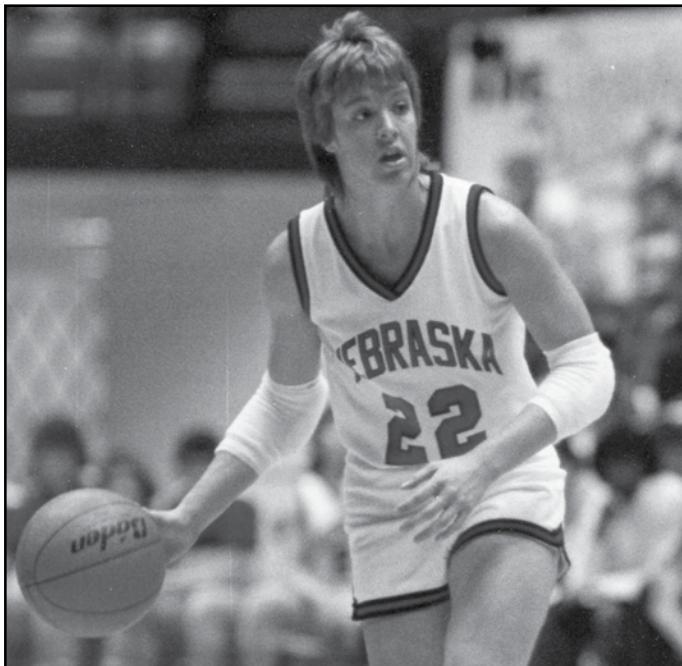

Imming's name would have appeared even higher on the Husker charts had she not left the team for personal reasons after the first 10 games of 1985-86. She returned to start all 29 games as a senior.

The 5-8 guard from Kearney, Neb., was an explosive scoring threat, erupting for a career-high 28 points and 10 rebounds against Oklahoma State on Feb. 24, 1987. She was also a talented performer in the classroom, earning first-team academic All-Big Eight honors in 1986-87.

Imming was inducted into the Nebraska High School Hall of Fame in 2000. She was an all-class all-state selection in both basketball and volleyball her senior season at Kearney High School.

Hacienda Heights, Calif.
(Los Altos)
2001-04

Nebraska's leading scorer her final two seasons, Alexa Johnson became the 21st Husker to reach the 1,000-point plateau and the first under Coach Connie Yori.

A two-time honorable-mention All-Big 12 Conference performer, Johnson enjoyed her finest season as a junior by averaging 14.8 points and 6.8 rebounds per game. Her 415 points as a junior nearly doubled her combined output from her freshman (33) and sophomore (204) seasons.

The 6-1 forward from Hacienda Heights, Calif., added 383 points as a senior, while averaging 12.8 points and 4.7 rebounds per contest.

Johnson helped lead one of the biggest turnarounds in the nation during her senior season, as the Huskers finished with an 18-12 overall record and advanced to the second round of the Women's National Invitation Tournament. A year earlier, the Huskers battled to an 8-20 record, giving NU a 10-game improvement from Johnson's junior to senior season.

She finished her senior season on a strong note by registering double figures in points in each of her last 14 games, including six consecutive games with 16 or more points to close her career.

A sharp-shooting southpaw, Johnson ranks fifth on Nebraska's career free throw percentage chart by connecting on 79.6 percent (218-274) of her attempts. She added 37.9 percent (39-103) accuracy from long range in her career, including a 40.0 percent success rate as a senior, when she hit 22-of-55 three-pointers.

Johnson produced a career-high 27 points in Nebraska's upset of No. 25 Cincinnati on Dec. 15, 2002. She added a career-best with 13 rebounds against Grambling State on Nov. 22, 2002.

A two-time academic All-Big 12 performer, Johnson earned first-team academic all-conference accolades as a sophomore before adding second-team honors in 2003. She earned her bachelor's degree in economics in 2004. Johnson currently lives in the Los Angeles area, where she has worked in the medical sales industry. She also coaches.

One of the top shot blockers and rebounders in Nebraska history, Charlie Rogers earned a place among the elite scorers in the Husker record book in her final game in a Nebraska uniform. Rogers scored 13 points on a 5-for-5 performance from the field and a 3-for-3 effort from the free throw line against Boston College on March 17, 2000, in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Rogers' two free throws with 34 seconds left pushed her over the 1,000-point barrier making her, Brooke Schwartz and Nicole Kubik the first three members of the same Nebraska recruiting class to achieve the 1,000-point mark.

Rogers, a Nebraska native and a prep product of national high school power South Sioux City, ranks No. 4 at Nebraska with 126 blocked shots, while ranking ninth on Nebraska's career rebounding list with 659 boards. As a senior, she led the Huskers with 7.9 rebounds per game, while averaging 9.8 points per contest.

She pulled down 20 rebounds against Drake on Dec. 2, 1999, and posted a career-high 20 points against Arizona on Dec. 7, 1997. Her five blocked shots in her final home game against Kansas State were also a career high. Rogers earned a spot on the Time Warner Cable Classic All-Tournament team in 1996, 1998 and 1999. Along with her accomplishments on the court, Rogers was a four-time first-team academic All-Big 12 selection and earned CoSIDA Second-Team Academic All-District recognition as a senior in 1999-2000.

Rogers is now living in Lincoln and regularly attends Husker home games.
